Montréal Communiqué

For release at will

November 6, 1969

LADY ENTERS Y JOG FOR $

Remember the female invasion of "Le Gobelet?" It's that rather plush tavern in the North East section of Montreal which, earlier this year, was invaded by a group of light-hearted young ladies, all demanding to be served.

One of the leaders of the foray, Melle Yolande Soucy, is readying a new drive into all-male territory, but this time she'll be an honored guest.

Melle Soucy, Public Relations Assistant at the Montreal YMCA, will this coming Wednesday, November 12, at noon, change from mini skirt into gym shorts and running shoes, to become the first young lady to participate in the Downtown YMCA's Joggathon.

The Joggathon to run into the end of the month, was organized by the Y to help raise funds to support a far-sighted youth project in Guyana, South America.

Participants find sponsors who contribute fixed sums for every mile logged by their proteges in the gym.

Melle Soucy's efforts will be underwritten by Terry Hendershot a Marathoner and member of the Y's Business Men's Health Club.

He has committed himself to donate $1.00 for every 125-yard circuit completed by Melle Soucy, equivalent of $28.00 a mile.
